From The Servant's Quarters

• Though nature's springtime is slow in blooming, the springtime of our Church year is in full flower this weekend! Welcome to the children who are receiving their First Communion on Saturday. Welcome to your parents, godparents, relatives and friends. Many thanks to our dedicated catechists and helpers who have assisted the second graders in appreciating the presence of the Lord in our celebration of the Eucharist. Hopefully Mother Nature will smile on us with a pleasant day and sunshine!

• And some of our more mature plants will be "budding out" this weekend! Congratulations to the youth of our parish and our neighbors from Good Shepherd who will be confirmed in the faith. We welcome your families and relatives coming to pray with you for the outpouring of the gifts of the Holy Spirit. It warms my heart when I see our young people taking an active role in the liturgy. It inspires me when I hear stories from mission trips and youth outreach. Your confirmation in the Spirit strengthens our community of faith and brings hope to our world, longing for the peace of the Risen Lord.

• The section of the gospel we proclaim this Third Sunday of Easter is one of the most fascinating accounts of the appearances of the Risen Lord. The two disciples on the road to Emmaus are so overcome with grief that they do not recognize the Risen Lord walking with them. And what a sense of humor the Lord shows in the dialogue! The disciples ask him, "Are you the only one that does not know the things that happened these past days?" In all naiveté The Lord say, "What sort of things?"

• The door is open for The Lord to help them understand the Scriptures at that point to a Messiah that serves, suffers, dies and rises. The climax for the disciples to come to a deeper faith is when He took the bread, said the blessing, broke it, and gave it to them. "Then their eyes were opened!"

• The entire event helps us to realize how valuable it is to bring our questions, our feelings, our longings to the Risen Lord. To allow Him to break open the Scriptures for us. In our participation in the breaking of the bread which we call the Mass our eyes too will be opened. We too are enabled to recognize the presence of the Lord in the breaking of the bread.

• Two race horses in their stables were sharing their experiences on the track. One said, "You know in the last race I felt a pinch in my hindquarters." The other horse said, "Funny, I felt a pinch in my hindquarters before the race I won." A dog walked by and said, "You idiots. You are being doped by being injected with a drug that makes you run faster." The first horse turned and said to the other horse, "Hey, a talking dog!"

What will the Synod accomplish?

Archbishop Listecki recently announced the archdiocese will be holding a Synod June 7-8, 2014. What appears below is part of a series of frequently asked questions about the Synod. More information on the Synod can be found on www.archmil.org.

The outcome of the Archdiocese of Milwaukee Synod will be a "synodal declaration" that provides a framework and direction of the Church of southeastern Wisconsin through 2025. It will include:

- Pastoral priorities for the Archdiocese of Milwaukee
- Pastoral priorities for parishes in the archdiocese
- Guidelines and resources to assist parishes in implementing the pastoral priorities
- Ways to engage parish and archdiocesan leadership to ensure progress toward the pastoral priorities is achieved
- An effective communication system allowing parishes to easily share ideas and best practices regarding the implementation of the pastoral priorities on a parish, cluster and district level.

Matthew 25 Service Project Experiences

Parishioners who sought a deeper Lenten experience, took cards from the purple draped cross that was located in the back of the church. The cards suggested a service project and asked parishioners to share a reflection from their experience. Here are two of them:

"As a family, my sisters, my mom, and I put together five Easter baskets for homebound Seniors. So each of us five ladies with our own immediate family put together a basket. We all enjoyed shopping and really thought about what these seniors would enjoy and really needed. It felt good spending time as a family putting someone else first, and doing something for others. It was a great call of service and the baskets look great! We hope to make them a little extra happy this Easter."

Another parishioner placed a note in one of the Rice Bowls which said: "On May 4 I will help sell soap/bath products after the 10:30 am mass." Thanks and have a great day!

If you too, took a card from the cross during Lent and performed some type of service to others and you wanted to share your experience, please write a short note and place it in the basked on the Great Room's fireplace ledge.

IMMEDIATE NEEDS NOTICES:

AN OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE (LITERALLY!)
FUNERAL ACOLYTES

When a death occurs the grieving family often turns to the Church for comfort and consolation especially through the prayers and rituals of our funeral services. St. James provides an exceptional bereavement ministry at the time of a funeral. Many individuals contribute to making the funeral service go smoothly through a ministry of love and compassion.

While the greeters, choir, and luncheon committee function as a group, there is one position that operates as a singular function and that is the funeral acolyte or server. The acolyte prepares the items used for the funeral service and Mass: lighting candles, preparing the bread and wine, having the holy water and pall in place, and generally assisting the priest during the Mass. In addition the acolyte prepares the incense used in the service. The assistance of an acolyte is essential to making a funeral service run smoothly so that everyone can participate in undistracted prayer. We are grateful to those who serve in this ministry. There are opportunities for more to serve in this ministry.

Funerals are celebrated weekday mornings or evenings, and Saturday mornings (never on Sunday.) Acolytes are always "on call" as there is no long term scheduling for funerals. Being an acolyte is indeed a special privilege and honor. It is a sacred and holy task to minister at the altar and to serve the bereaved. Will you please consider responding to this opportunity to serve, to acolyte at our funeral services? Call Daryl Olszewski at 253-2213. Thank you.

As various needs come up you can call or email Tom Becker at 262-246-6381/tombecker-re@sbcglobal.net OR Diana at 253-2235/ wyszkowskid@archmil.org so we can be sure this gets published as soon as possible.

St. James is here to help all people experience meaning and purpose in life.

"Stay with us…" was the request of the two on their way to Emmaus. And Jesus succumbed to their request and offer of hospitality. Did you ever ask Jesus to "stay with me"? Where do you most need the love, the guidance, the encouragement of Jesus? Where are you trying to go it alone? Do you have decisions to make where inviting Jesus to be with you would help? As you awake each morning, why not invite Jesus to "Stay with me this day." As you leave Mass, invite Jesus to "Stay with me this week." Before sleep, invite Jesus to "Stay with me this night." Where do you especially need the Risen Christ? Invite him to stay with you there. You will not be disappointed!

A Note from our Parish Nurse, Pam Dennis:

Walk your way to fitness, that is our goal as spring approaches here at St. James. Start slowly if you have not been exercising regularly. Don't be discouraged if you can't walk 30 minutes your first time out. It's OK to start slowly. Keep in mind that as you increase your physical effort, your body will respond by improving its capacity for exercise. To condition your heart and lungs safely, consider these three factors: intensity, frequency and duration.

What is a desirable intensity for you? Here are two simple tools to help you find out: Talk test. Can you carry on a conversation with a companion while you walk? If you can't, you're probably pushing too hard. Slow your pace. Perceived exertion. Perceived exertion refers to the total amount of effort, physical stress and fatigue you experience during an activity. Aim for a moderate intense level of activity.

Frequency and duration are important factors also. As a general goal, aim for daily physical activity. Remember, the more you walk, the greater the benefits. It is okay to even start with five minutes a day the first week, and then increase your time by five minutes each week until you reach your goal.

If you would like company, we have started a walking group here at St. James. We will be walking every Wednesday at beginning at 9 am in front of the Community Center doors on the east side of the church, by the picnic table. We will stretch for 5 minutes before and after our walk and walk over at the mobile park for 30 minutes. Join us for some fellowship and exercise!
