Messages from our PA

Last weekend's Scripture readings highlighted the healing, life-giving power of God. The Gospel of Mark detailed the miraculous healing of the woman who had suffered for years as well as the raising to life of Jairus' daughter. This weekend's readings underscore the interplay of God's power to heal with our openness to that power in faith. In the spirit of St. Paul's 2nd letter to the Corinthians, in which he confidently extols God's ability to use our weaknesses to reveal His power and glory, I share the following testimonial story from one of our parishioners, Katie Leinbeck.

"On Mother's Day weekend 1990 I was diagnosed with MS. Just to let you know how wonderful my Lord is…It usually takes years to make this diagnosis. But the Lord sped things along in my case. After one specific test the results pointed to MS. I worked in the OR at what was then Community Memorial Hospital, from 1979-2001. During that time I was starting to show signs of my left foot dragging a little. It was difficult to pass some of the surgical instruments. I was having problems holding onto the retractors we used. So in June of 2001 I decided to retire.

We lived in Sussex at the time…I started having leg spasms so I would get up at night and use my walker and walk around the living room, and prayed for whomever the Lord placed on my heart. I eventually went to an electric wheelchair. But the house was not made for a wheelchair to be rolling around in so we moved to Jackson, where we found a home that was more accessible.

I have always been an avid reader and the Lord placed a book in my hands that started to make me think. If I ask the Lord to walk again and it would be His will and for His glory, why would He not use me? So I asked. And I believed. And I visualized that I was walking again. Two years ago my aide wanted to become a nurse. We had been together for 4 years. She graduated and has moved on—the Lord's plan—I didn't need her anymore.

I started moving my feet. Just pushing on my tiptoes. Then I tried kicking out my foot. After that I called my nurse and told her what was happening. She couldn't believe it! So she hooked me up with a Physical Therapist and now I'm doing exercises to strengthen my muscles and my bones. I'm able to roll from side to side in bed so that my husband can place the sling under me that attaches to my Hoyer Lift to take me out of our of bed and to put me in my wheelchair. I'm doing range of motion exercises with my husband and when he bends my leg and pushes it towards me I now push back. When he raises my leg up I try to lower it down. When he pulls my leg out towards the right I try to pull it back towards the middle.

I truly believe as I have asked the Lord…if it is your will I want to walk again! All the praise and glory goes to Him because I'm not doing this—He's doing this through me! Oh that the Lord would 'use me' that I would know the JOY of being used by My Lord!"

I share this story with you not to raise anyone's hopes of miraculous cures for illness, but rather as an example of Katie's surrender and trust in God's power and action in her physical condition. Katie's witness echoes the message that St. Paul received from the Lord: "My grace is sufficient for you, for power is made perfect in weakness." And I wonder, as Jesus was amazed at the people's lack of faith in today's Gospel, how is he amazed by our faith? By our lack of it, or by our abundance of it…?"

St. James Community Gardens

Last week we told you we were dealing with a mystery. Tomato plants that weren't growing, but weren't dying either. It appears that the plants that were purchased from the plant sale and planted in your gardens were doing fine. So our attention focused on the soil as the culprit. We sent a sample in to the UW Extension lab in Marshfield and the results were conclusive: pH 7.9; P 187 ppm; K 639 ppm; and organic matter, 13.3 percent. That makes so much sense….at least it makes sense if you're a Master Gardener who has taken classes on the composition of soil. Luckily we have such a person in our group (DS we're talking about you.).

The solution is to balance things out by adding soluble nitrogen to the soil. And we did just that. Our soluble nitrogen comes as a scoop of milk chocolate colored 'syrup' that needs to be mixed with a gallon of water. When it's mixed it looks like the kind of chocolate milk an Olympic athlete might use to hydrate after a practice. It's light brown and foamy, but the nitrogen we added to the soil smells like fish poop. Because that's what it is. Our struggling tomatoes were each treated to a cup of liquid fish poop. (And our gardener was treated to a shower when she got home.) With luck those tomato plants will start growing the way they should and produce the tomatoes we are hoping for. We will keep you posted. Meanwhile, we hope you are still able to enjoy chocolate milk.

If you have any questions or comments, feel free to contact Paul Schneider at (414-587-1202) or pschneider@wi.rr.com.
